PIEDMONT AREA COUNCIL, BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

The Piedmont Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, first known as the Lynchburg Council, was organized in April 1920, in Lynchburg, Virginia. A. J. HIMMELSBACH, of West Chester, Pennsylvania, accepted the position as scout executive for the Council. The group was chartered by Boy Scouts of America on 20 April 1920. One of the first projects of the Council was to establish a permanent camp in the Lynchburg area "where the boys may go in the summer and enjoy camping and scoutcraft" and was to be without cost save for food and transportation." The Council was later expanded to include several of the surrounding counties and became known as the Piedmont Area Council. The Piedmont Area Council was incorporated in 1950.
