May 11th 1899

Your very amusing letter came duly to hand today, from the town you must think that Lynchburg is so far out of the world that we have not yet heard that one between the north & the south is a man we mean in New York papers - are totally unconcerned that the leading men in New York are forcing (not their precious persons) by millions have sent & subjugate the south that they have sent Regiments of black hearted villains to rob, ravage & burn pillage & destroy in houses & fireplaces & intend to parcel out our lands & negroes to their slaves. all this of course we don't know. & you ask us that a remittance. We would say to me instead of some further day to pay every dollar we owe in the world but as present we have other uses & the one means one of our young men & the mother of this (son of your brother) expect to welcome our friends from the north at the point of the sword, & we shall be most happy to meet them & show some one representing Prof. Schuffeler's Book. Hoping this explanation satisfactory we remain
Very respectfully,
W.A. Strother & Co.
