

Bonsack Machine Co.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT,

POSTAL ADDRESS: BONSACK MACHINE CO.
LYNCHBURG, VA.
CABLE ADDRESS: "BONSACK."

LYNCHBURG, VA.,

Ann & M

My sweet husband you are so good & dear (tho' quarrelsome) you deserve more letters & of heart echoes indeed in friction you would be flustered with ^{the} little white wings when receiving your tender kisses not least the little stanzas I so much & dear that remorse fills my soul with overflowing joy to write I can stand it no longer - & here I rest my case. I would we are rejoiced that you will come back to us with renewed health & it will make you so happy to see your family again that I anticipate continued good results from your entire rest & change - I am quite well again went twice to church yesterday - tho' an awfully warm day - saw & had a rehearsal the interesting group of young folks at home the two former are now receiving daily letters from the 4 young couples who left Sat P.M. - some for home & others back to V.P.I. run over school these 4 not including any one all of their conquests - the home boys are taking up where the others leave off & so they are in a breathless rush of pleasure excitement - frequent rains driving in from the yard & balcony - but nothing daunted they baffle the elements & don't go home till they get ready - we are eating our first chickens have gotten down our plenty of things to eat - Ma getting too fat she fears tell Lanie Lee - Ma Campin is in high glee & with him & Minor - there is a rumour of business some with her mother & of course Minor took tea with her every evening - just here in the front porch a young came calling & as the girls were out he sat down & talked away my writing hour - then dinner over the laundry count came on now I'm due at Womens Aux & must try to finish this for Beverly - I try not to have much leisure to pen a line to my absent husband from his tenant Oh dear you get important ^{Wife} letter & Kirk Gabriel written you there! Margaret I need to know about it