Anecdotal Information

This home, in its 1894 configuration, was the first Rivermont Avenue home of George and Mary Jones (see Jones Memorial Library at 434). They then built and moved to 456 Rivermont. The extensive alterations to the 1894 Queen Ann included the removal of a tower, replacing the porch with the current 2-story portico, and facing the house with red brick. More recently, this brick has been painted yellow. According to the Lynchburg City Directory, from 1952-1955 the Collegiate Community Methodist Church owned the home.

For June 11, 2010 interview with former resident Flo Traywick, please see "Rivermont Memories" under "About Us."
